

It's very simple.

To get £100k job you need £100k skills and £100k attitude.

Paul said – “That was the worst interview of my life!”

Karen said – “There is no way I can put a value to that!”

Carl said – “I was hoping you wouldn't ask me that question!”

Richard worked with Paul to polish his interview technique.

Richard worked with Karen to work out the financial benefits of her achievements.

Richard worked with Carl to weave a coherent story for him that neutralised his killer question.

Paul and Karen and Carl then secured new jobs.

You've invested in an MSc or an MBA. How much will you spend to get ahead of the competition?

Or will you be the person sitting next to the person who worked with Richard? ...The choice is yours.

HOW TO GET A £100K JOB

6 x 3-hour confidential 1-to-1 personal tutor sessions.

Combining coaching support and training inputs.

In person, or wherever you are via Skype.

1. Added value CV
2. Job hunting process
3. Networking and interview skills
4. The worst interview of your life
5. Learning review
6. The best interview of your life